

ROBERT A. FOX LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

Summer 2022 Fellowship Program

L E A D E R S H I P

UNIVERSITY of PENNSYLVANIA

- The Robert A. Fox Leadership Program encourages students to consider the lessons in leadership and life articulated and modeled by Robert A. Fox
 - Finding your passions
 - Putting people first
 - Succeeding the right way
- Fox places Penn undergraduate and recent alumni with innovative non-profit and public sector organizations in Philadelphia and nationally
- Fellowships are research and/or service based
- In-person, virtual, and hybrid fellowships are available for Summer 2022

National Fellowships

Voting, Elections & Governance

BROOKINGS

Child Empowerment & Wellness

Civil Rights

National
Urban League

Local Philly Fellowships

Voting, Elections & Governance

PORES

The Philadelphia Inquirer

Child Empowerment & Wellness

Food Insecurity

COALITION AGAINST HUNGER

NUTRITIONAL
DEVELOPMENT SERVICES
Archdiocese of Philadelphia

- The Brookings Institution is a leading think tank located in Washington DC.
- Fellows support the research work of E.J. Dionne and William A. Galston, both Senior Fellows in the Governance Studies program. Fellows can attend internal meetings, local think tank events, professional development workshops, and public Brookings events
- Fellowships are based in Washington DC. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

BROOKINGS

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- PORES is a research program within Penn that pairs students with faculty conducting research on political outcomes using public opinion and election-related data
- Ideal for students interested in public opinion research, politics, and voting habits. Some projects require statistical and data analysis skills. Projects have included:
 - Collecting precinct vote results
 - Analyzing attitudes towards healthcare policy proposals
 - Evaluating how dropping the GRE requirement impacts graduate program applications
 - Mapping text-message data from governmental feedback platform implemented in Uganda
- Fellowships are based in Philadelphia. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

PORES

Application Due:
February 26

Apply through the PORES
website pores.upenn.edu

- Votebeat is a nonprofit newsroom covering local election administration and voting access issues. Fellows work directly with Jessica Huseman, Votebeat Editorial Director
- Past fellows have gathered data related to elections and voting for reporters, filed Freedom of Information Requests (FOIAs), and conducted original data analysis for the Votebeat newsletter
- Fellowships with Votebeat are remote. Fellows are encouraged to live in Philadelphia for the summer

Application Due:
February 26

Apply through the PORES
website pores.upenn.edu

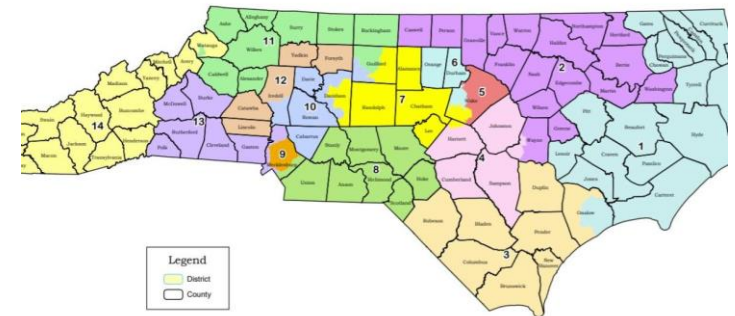

- SCSJ is a nonprofit organization based in North Carolina that partners with communities of color across the South to defend and advance their political, social, and economic rights
- Fellows work on the redistricting team helping to analyze congressional redistricting maps and generate analyses related to those maps
- Fellowships with SCSJ are remote. Fellows are encouraged to live in Philadelphia for the summer

Application Due:
February 26

Apply through the PORES
website pores.upenn.edu

- Fellows work with the Data-Driven Storytelling team at the Philadelphia Inquirer, under the leadership of Jonathan Lai, the Inquirer's Data and Democracy reporter
- Fellows research, report, write, and produce news stories. They also pitch original data-driven stories including collecting and analyzing data (such as scraping websites or querying APIs)
- Fellowships are currently virtual, however when the Inquirer resumes in-person work, these fellowships will be based out of the paper's newsroom in Center City Philadelphia

The Philadelphia Inquirer

Application Due:
February 26

Apply through the PORES
website pores.upenn.edu

- NUL is a historic civil rights and urban advocacy nonprofit. Ideal for students interested in nonprofit careers, or in understanding the connection between nonprofits, corporations, and government
- Fellows are assigned to one of NUL's operating departments in NYC or DC. Fellows have opportunity to work on assignments for the annual summer conference, work on “The President's Project”, and attend special events throughout the summer
- Fellowships are based in New York City and Washington DC. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

National
Urban League

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- CHILD USA is a think tank focused on child abuse and neglect issues. Fellows work closely with Founder and CEO Marci Hamilton
- Fellows work on research intensive projects related to policy and the law. Ideal opportunity for students interested in law school. Past research has included:
 - Tracking educational neglect statutes
 - Investigating judicial training on child sex abuse in the family court system
 - Contributing research to the Game Over Commission for Youth Athletes
- Fellowships are based in Philadelphia. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- Girls Inc. is a national non-profit with local chapters that inspires all girls to be strong, smart, and bold through direct service and advocacy
- Multiple fellowship opportunities available at Girls Inc.
 - Marketing and Communications (NYC)
 - Participate in the planning, content development, and management of Girls Inc. social media outlets
 - Public Policy (DC)
 - Research legislation and policy initiatives affecting girls, support grassroots engagement efforts
 - Programming (Philly)
 - Develop content for summer programming, directly serve girls while working with senior staff and volunteers
- Each fellowship is based in a specific location. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- The Coalition connects people with food assistance programs and nutrition education, provides resources to a network of food pantries, and educates the public and policymakers about hunger issues in Philadelphia and the surrounding communities
- Multiple fellowship opportunities available at the Coalition
 - SNAP Hotline and Summer Meals Outreach
 - Take incoming calls on food stamp program and field summer meals phone inquiries. Assist with preparation of data required to support online summer meals map
 - Anti-hunger Education, Engagement, & Advocacy
 - Work with Policy Director and Community Educator to create informational materials specific to needs in Philadelphia and surrounding communities
- Fellowships are based in Philadelphia. The summer fellowships are still TBD in-person or remote

COALITION AGAINST
HUNGER

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- NDS provides meals and food assistance to organizations serving children and the poor as an extension of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia. Fellows experience the operational and regulatory requirements of sponsoring a federally-funded Child Nutrition Program
- Fellows assist site supervisors fielding calls related to summer meal distribution, provide on-site and over-the-phone training and assistance to local site supervisors
- Fellowships will be based in Philadelphia and will work out of the NDS offices in Center City

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

- Share Food Program is the largest-serving food bank in the Philadelphia Region, and the largest independent food bank in the country
- Fellows work on the Customer Experience & Compliance team interfacing between Share and local food pantries and distribution sites helping to troubleshoot problems
- Fellowships are based in Philadelphia but will be fully remote for this summer.

Application Due:
March 18

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu

Due Date: Feb 26

PORES

The Philadelphia Inquirer

Apply through the PORES website
pores.upenn.edu

Due Date: March 18

BROOKINGS

Apply by sending resume
and statement of interest to
foxleadership@upenn.edu